- My website is called JABARI INTERNATIONAL ENGLISH CONNECT. I have designed this website to be a platform of communication and promotion of English learning around the world.
- My audience is address to everybody and mostly for non-native English speaker in Africa, Asia and around the world. Young, adult, elderly people having the desire to learn English whether for their school admission, a promotion at work or for their own knowledge are most welcomed to contact us.
- The URL for my complete website is: https://f-yo.github.io/wdd130/personal_site_plan/home_page.html
- The goal of my website is to promote English Learning by visually and emotionally affect the reader and the viewer of the website of the Blessing and advantages of learning English through the use of successful people mostly young to affect the African Youth and adult neglecting the English language and raise an alert in their mind on the opportunities they are missing. The website is also designed to take their information and contact them back through mail and give them the opportunity to express themselves and share their personal feeling, concerns and excitements for us to address them in an effective and efficient manner.
- I made several changes as I walked through my website, they were mainly applied because of an esthetical mind, I wanted the website to be more appealing. So, I made some changes and some research on what I really wanted my website to look like. I have changed the logo's position; I wanted my website not to be that ordinary and always following the same pattern learned in class. I applied some skills not reviewed yet that I found interesting. I wanted even to include a video in my main tag, but it was quite difficult and challenging.
- As I walked through this project, I have learned how to think creatively and design wireframes. I have learned how to code those wireframes that I have designed and understood that sometimes, as we are going through our code, the feeling and desire to make changes may appear. We should not be afraid to act upon them and follow our inspiration and create something new. I am proud of my work because I designed it the way I want it to be. I have also learned how to insert images, create sign in button and place images into blocks, use margin and many other tags to make the website appealing. I have learned how to make scrolling images. I have also how to create a contact form to be able to take information such as first name, last name, country, and the feelings and idea of the viewer to better reach to them. One of the challenging works I did was to create the sign up button and make useful.

- To conclude, I am so much grateful for learning all this, this semester. I am ending with greater knowledge; I can say that I know more than before, and I am excited for the future and continue to learn more and even improve and master what I learned during the break.
